Roto NX_Integrated night ventilation in the stay arm

To whom it may concern

We hereby confirm, that Roto NX hardware, with its technical characteristics and constructional solutions completely replaces Roto NT hardware.

Concerning to night ventilation function, existing Roto NT version, with special Night-vent corner drive, was fully replaced with integrated night ventilation in the stay arm, by Roto NX.

Key advantages and benefits of Roto NX night vent solution:

- No additional frame component necessary by Roto NX – modern design
- Staged taper action (s-shaped link) harmoniously distributes the necessary operating force throughout the closing process - high level of operating convenience because the window can be closed effortlessly
- The sash runs through the night ventilation function automatically at a handle position of 135° - Intuitive handle operation
